

Synopsis for The Keepers of Éire

2-line Summary:

Christian and Devan discover shared destinies and the commitment required to protect loved ones as they fight to stop a dragonslayer.

Short Synopsis:

For centuries dragons have protected Ireland, their existence kept secret using earth magic and their human riders. Now that secret is threatened.

Journey with Christian and Devan as they discover their destinies, the truth of dragons, and the honor and loyalty required to protect the ones they love from a murderer.

Medium Synopsis:

For centuries dragons have protected Ireland, their existence kept secret using magic and their human riders. After four murdered dragon and rider pairs, that secret is threatened.

Christian Riley, a man with his own secrets, is haunted by visions of each slaying. As each vision intensifies, he fears he is the killer.

An American, Devan Fraser, stumbles onto the murders while investigating her inherited dragon ring.

Christian's only memento from the mother who gave him up for adoption is a pendant that matches Devan's ring. Together they discover their destinies, the truth of dragons, and the honor and loyalty required to protect the ones they love from a murderer.

Long Synopsis:

The Keepers of Éire:

Red, blue, gold, black, and green with every color and shade in between.
Glistening dragon hides of both lads and lasses rise through the swirling mists and grasses.

Ancient magic used to protect the land, the beasts, and those of respect.
A human partner - A Compeer
reveres the mighty dragons of Éire.

The Keepers of Éire in eminent danger
but, from a friend, or from a stranger?
Four dragons and riders murdered on holidays of Celtic lore their existence - a secret, perhaps no more.

Devan and Christian embark on an odyssey
to find their long-lost destiny.
The dragon power they emanate
a beacon for a reprobate.

First to Newgrange to check on a dream
there trust builds, they become a team.
Then on to Counties Waterford and Clare
next, Galway and Sligo, they finally dare.

Every location holds a clue
each murdered dragon, a different hue.
Devan and Christian are followed, it's true could they be dragonriders, anew?

At the Hill of Tara's giant stone rings
atop the legendary seat of kings, Destinies are interwoven, long ago ordained dragon magic and mysteries are explained.

An oath, they have sworn to protect and defend the land and its inhabitants until the end.
Will the killer steal the dragon power?
or will love and family stand tall as a tower?
